

That rather He chose to make Himself known through the divinity in worthy instruments, the Lord fashioned a form in which He then designed to dwell among His creatures. Consequently, divine intercession to mitigate the law of cause and effect, by which a man suffers awful penalty for his errors, was at the heart of the mission of the love Jesus came fulfil. Whilst Moses may have brought the law from God to man, emphasizing the awful justice that befalls wilful heedlessness, Jesus on the other hand overruled that when He came to demonstrate the forgiveness and compassion of God, whose love is a refuge even from exacting law. In arcane terminology, the record left behind by the Lord Jesus in the Olivet Discourse, does vividly evince the highest degree of divine realization, that makes known to man the deep esoteric truth experienced and transferred at the Calvary Cross. However, today the Holy Spirit presents this truth taught by Jesus, from the point of view of an inward intuitive realization. "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do"; with these words Jesus placed his signature on a unique life that enthroned him everlasting on the altar of worshipful hearts as the incarnation of God's loving compassion. That is the reason God can afford to lavish today's church with such a phenomenal vision like that of May 11, 2009, which effectively translates into Love Unending. The Good Shepherd of souls, opened His arms to all, indeed rejecting none, and with His universal love coaxed the whole world to follow Him on the path to eternity, through His example of sacrifice, renunciation, forgiveness, love for friend and enemy alike, and supreme love for God Almighty, above all else. Therefore, this vision of a Note Written by God's own hand, now unveils to us the deeper tidings that manifested when Jesus appeared as a tiny babe in the manger at Bethlehem, and as a Saviour who healed the sick and raised the dead and applied the salve of His love on the wounds of man's errors. Christ Jesus truly lived among men as one of them that they too might learn to fear God Almighty and hence receive an invitation of entry into the kingdom of God.

Today, through this loving vision of the hand-written note of God, we are vividly reminded here of the deeper unsearchable nature of Jehovah God. To the extent that mere mortals like the church can now cope with life of unsolved and unsolvable mysteries, in an inscrutable universe created by the Omnipotence of God; it must have surely taken the Blood of Jesus. Of the Omniscient essence of His Omnipresence, would indeed an overwhelming challenge be, were it not for His divine emissary Jesus, who came to earth to reveal the voice and authority of God Almighty. For the guidance of errored man, the Lord Jesus did this in order that one day the sinful church may also qualify to enter the wedding of the Lamb, not by their works but by Grace. Indeed, this vision of the Written Note of God is the pure testimony that Christ, the beloved Son of God didst embark on a storm-tossed sea of prejudiced minds, and their cruel-thought waves bitterly lashed his tender heart (Isaiah 53:1-12). And yet in it all, the trial on the Cross scored an immortal victory of humility over force, and soul over flesh. It is that particular fete on the Cross at Calvary, that has finally permitted God Almighty, who Himself had vowed unto Self, of the stealthiness with which he would appear at the midnight hour to take the church, only to relent (Revelation 16:15). By mercies unspeakable, now the Lord rescinds this and sends a Personal Hand-Written Note alerting mankind of the preparedness hour in the night. Truly, this 2:50am May 11, 2009 vision, had everything to do with revealing the sagacious compassion of God's Agape love for today's sinful and fallen church. Again, like it was at the inception of baby Jesus in Bethlehem, when the fullness of the time was come to redeem them, that which were under the curse of sin, God has now sent this love note that the church might receive the adoption of sons. But, this too acts as a call to repentance because when the fulfilment of the promise tarried, the church has recently drifted into sin as though they enjoyed a form of impunity.

Here, we are reminded of the time in Israel when the system of heathenism was losing its hold upon God's people, and men were weary of pageants and fables. They wept so aloud from the inside of their hearts longing for a religion that could satisfy their souls. While the Light of the truth seemed to have departed from among them, there were souls who were looking for that Light and who were filled with perplexity and sorrow, especially having encountered Jehovah their God, in the past. The more this darkness consummated in the House of the Lord, the more they were thirsting for the knowledge of their Living God and for some little assurance of life beyond the graves. Likewise, in the church today, worship services have indeed been virtually converted into large-scale stage-production that chiefly represent legendary and traditional events, or tableaux in which the dramatic interest of the Lord has now become less important than the spectacle itself. Church services have now deteriorated into an elaborately colourful processional display, with ceremonial value other than the true worship in the Holy Spirit. This is the reason that when the Lord remembered the church once more and lavished her with this mighty vision of His own hand-written missive ; it became on that May 11, the greatest milestone of hope and renewal in the church.

THE VISION

This year the Lord the God of Israel remembered Europe when He sent me to Paris, France to announce to them that the coming of the Messiah has now drawn nearer than when they first believed. It caused me to hold a mighty revival meeting in Paris, at which the Man of the Spirit allowed me to share with the Church of Christ in France about the hidden secrets of the Kingdom of God regarding the coming of the Messiah. It was an elaborate presentation of the entire conversation that the Lord has had with me regarding the coming of Christ Jesus in the rapture. I faithfully presented the glorious message of the wedding rings in the sky, the revelation on the rapture of the dead, and the 5:38am vision of the mighty clock of God. Towards the end of that mission in France, as I prepared to leave that country, on that May 11, 2009 night, God Almighty visited with me in the mightiest way, yet. It has since then turned out to be the most shocking vision to behold, because it involved the Lord God Almighty Himself literally handing me down His Personal Hand-Written Note . A direct communication of this nature is what took my breath away upon waking up. It has also virtually merited as the most significant visitation in the church yet, within a series of outstanding phenomenal visions that the Lord has been conversing with the church on, regarding the most anticipated day of rapture. On that May 11th 2009, come 2:50am in the night, then I saw the mighty vision of God Almighty. And all of a sudden, in that exceptional vision of God, I was walking along a narrow path that was well illuminated from heaven above. The brilliance of the Light that shone from above was so startling that I could literally feel the weight of the rays as they shone on the path. I was also made very much aware of the fact that this was most holy ground. The illumination of bright light that shone from above, made it possible for me to see every rock and stone that was on the road I walked in that vision. And surely it was that brilliant Light that enabled me to navigate on that path without hitting any rock. Then abruptly and without any advance forewarning, a tremendous voice spoke aloud from heaven. The voice I heard said, "Look and see what has fallen at your feet." What clearly comes to mind is that in that glorious vision of the Lord, following the instruction of the voice from heaven, instead of looking at my feet to see what had fallen on them, I instead, out of shock opted to look up right above, and towards the sky from where the Tremendous Voice of the Lord had come.

The Voice of the Lord was so overwhelming to the extent that it became practically impossible in that vision to ignore it. And that being the case, I surely attempted to look up from where God Almighty had spoken. At that precise moment, as I was still looking up in an attempt to see from where the voice had come, then I unexpectedly was shocked to see a small piece of paper that was falling from heaven above. The piece of paper I saw had been dropped from heaven and was now coming down towards the earth. The way in which the piece of paper had been dropped from heaven, made it float in the air like a kite. The forces of wind kept it buoyant as it still did fall towards the earth. The piece of paper that I saw floating while coming down from heaven in the sky, was so glorious to the extent that its path became even more well lit. The powerful illumination of God's glory from heaven still beamed my path. Abruptly then, the piece of paper that had come floating from heaven seem to have picked up a very high velocity on its descend, because I was very stunned when I finally found out that it had instantly just fallen on my right foot. It is then that I immediately picked that glorious white piece of paper that had just fallen on my right foot. In that vision, when I picked the piece of paper that had fallen from above, a close look at it immediately revealed to me that this piece of paper, was as a matter of fact a written note . That is when it ultimately dawned on me on the gravity that I had just received a written message from God Almighty in heaven. That was the instance at which I now realized that God Almighty in heaven had actually this time around decided to send a real written note to the church of Christ. Well, in that surprise, then came more in the offing within this vision, when I further realized that this written note that I was now holding in my hand, was in actual fact hand-written. The truth of the moment began to unfold even further when I noticed that apart from being hand-written, the Personal note I was in the process of receiving from heaven in this vision, was written using a blue ink fountain pen. In this vision, upon attempting to read the hand-written note, is when it came out clearly that the writings of this heavenly note were made in a descending order from top to bottom and the piece of paper used was glowingly super glorious. The note was written three times, in the same manner and same ink pen. While still in this vision, a careful examination of the content of the writings in this missive from God Almighty in heaven, revealed that the first writing that was above the other two read:

As I read on, the second writing in descending order, the one that was sandwiched between the two, it read:

I am Coming

And finally, when I read the third portion of this glorious hand-written note of Jehovah the God of Israel, it likewise read:

I am Coming

In a nutshell then, this is what God's hand-written message on the glorious heavenly piece of paper read:

I am Coming

I am Coming

I am Coming

Waking up from the vision is when I looked at the clock and realized it was at about 2:50am in the morning. I also gradually began to embrace the sobering and most perplexing reality that the Lord God Almighty had spoken from heaven, but this time around by a direct hand-written note. More to it was the most important content of the missive that the Messiah is coming. This directly and most immediately brought me down on my knees as I began to pray for the church of Christ world-over, especially given their unpreparedness.

REVELATION

Today, it is common knowledge for all devout Christians that read the Bible, that the most anticipated and sometimes dreadful coming of the Lord in the rapture, will mark the most ultimate culmination on the timeline. This is because at rapture the church will access entry into the kingdom of God. What makes this particular note even more precious is that the Lord's coming stands out as a hidden and secret event, and yet God Almighty deemed it fit on that day to pronounce it in such a direct and open magnificent way. It is suffice to say that the scriptural context of the Lord's coming will incontrovertibly behold His coming like a thief in the midnight hour (Revelation 16:15; Matthew 24:36, Matthew 25:1-13). A loving compassion of this magnitude does not in any way take away from the standard benchmark of holiness that the Lord has set up for that day of rapture as a universal yardstick. In Israel too, God often remembered His people even as their detestable fall to sin had drifted them afar a yonder. Today, we can celebrate the fact that though that yardstick of holiness still upholds, the fullness of time has now come and God is sending forth this written missive as a providence intended to directly influence the movements of nations, churches, and the tide of human impulse and influence, until the whole world has totally ripened up for the coming of the Redeemer. The delivery of this hand-written note to the church of Christ greatly emphasizes that God is intent on gathering the church that had gone into dispersion, and to bring them back into a feast as one body at the wedding of the Lamb of God. While the vision of the two wedding rings still astound, this one on the written note of God, surpasses all measure of language because it simply underscores the plain truth that the Messiah is as a matter of fact coming. Through types and symbols through patriarchs and Prophets, God has spoken to this world lessons that must now be given to humanity in the language of humanity. This is principally because time has run out and the Messenger of the Covenant must now come. However, before His coming, the voice of the Lord must be heard in His own Temple, the church and plainly unveiled. That is the reason God decided to write directly, and in direct language. This becomes the most sobering awakening yet, to the church of Christ on the nearness with which the return of the Messiah to the earth has drawn. The problem though has been that through the centuries, the Shepherds have instead of preparing the church, endeavoured to in place study into the philosophies and mysteries of the bible thereby causing a form of bigotry that has hindered Christians from spreading the true light of salvation for rapture. And yet, God's word is now coming out plainly clear to this end that He longs to communicate openly and freely with the church, just that she may not miss her eternity. Intent on maintaining the love of money in the house, the church has recently been most unwilling to impart her worship knowledge into the true interpretation of the image of the one whom they truly prefigure to significance. This super extraordinary May 11th 2009 vision of the Lord's written note, gives birth to another context, an even deeper one, on all the previous conversations and visions regarding the advent of the Messiah. Notwithstanding, the vision of the two golden wedding rings, on November 1st 2006, the vision of the rapture of the dead on November 26th 2006 and the vision of the golden clock of God on May 3rd 2007.

This Written Note of God can also be directly translated as a state of concern being expressed by the Lord over the church. It appears as though as the fullness of time draws nearer, humanity is becoming more and more degraded through the ages of transgressions. The enemy has been working in the church among the Pastors to make the gulf deeper and impassable between the earth and heaven. But this conveyance of the Written Note is a tremendous symbolic bridge that God has now built between heaven and earth. This can only mean that the worn-out forbearance of God in man and the extinguished love of man for God has now come to an end thereby culminating the jurisdiction of the adversary upon the church. This heavenly Written Note becomes a tremendous glimmer of hope into the church because in the most recent past, the deception of sin and corruption had as a matter of fact reached its height. All the agencies for depraving souls of men had been fully engaged in operation and God Almighty looking upon this world beheld suffering and utter misery. With such pity Jehovah saw how believers have today become victims of the cruelty of deception. It is the reason on that May 11, 2009 2:50am, the Lord looked upon this corrupted church with such compassion and a sense of loss. But the true revival that that Written Note now brings to the church, is that God now intends to use this dial to awaken man on the dispensation of the latter outpour, that the body of Christ may now be reverted back to the dwelling place of God Almighty, the habitation of the Holy Spirit. With intense interest God Almighty has longed for an unfallen church to arise and sweep into the barns the inhabitants of this earth, in that most pledged endtime revival. And if the Holy Spirit should do this now prior to the rapture, then God Almighty is ready to carry out his plan for securing for himself the allegiance of all believers.

This most welcome Written Note from heaven clearly declares that the principle of God's government exalts repentance and forgiveness of sin, as the most important centrepiece. Had the Lord forgotten the church without an awakening of this magnitude, at this last hour, the adversary would have claimed that his accusations were proved true. The adversary would have been ready to cast blame and to spread his rebellion to the whole known wide world. But instead of destroying today's corrupt fallen church, God has now chosen to send His hand-written note to defeat the corruption and defiance that is now being seen in every part of the priesthood. This glorious hand-written note surely is a way to recovery from a very severe spiritual crisis in the church, in order to usher in the triumph that the Son of God achieved at Calvary with its embassy of divine Grace. It is also a note totally consistent with God's nature of Grace, and especially given that throughout the centuries, the love of God has always been exercised towards the fallen church. Notwithstanding, the perversity of man, the signals of mercy of the kind that this written note conveys, have continually been exhibited except that this time around this note relays the climax of Agape. Such a height of God's love is now tenable through the knowledge of the scripture that says that not even the angels in heaven, nor does the Son of man know when that day of rapture will realize (Matthew 24:36-42). And when the fullness of time will come, then the Deity will be glorified by pouring upon the world a flood of revival in healing the grace that once was obstructed by the corruption of the priesthood, till the plan of salvation should be fulfilled at rapture.

Behold, I am Coming

Whereas the memorandum being conveyed by the Lord through this novel hand-written note from heaven, may seem pretty obvious, the underlying revelation thereof though, requires a careful scrutiny of biblical context. Viewed through the mirror of the bible, this visitation ceases to be a three statement piece of paper, but unveileth much to the church at this last hour. A lot can be spiritually mined out for the added benefit of the believers in today's collapsed church. What particularly becomes most exulting about this message is that it debases the defiling claim of the adversary in the church, while establishing the original image of God that was bestowed on humanity. This is majorly because this written note raises the prospect upon which the world's Redeemer looked at man as a spectacle for infinite purity to behold. It is a written note that declares God's ownership over the church because it is as though God were saying, "You are mine". We must be reminded here that in the beginning God created man in his own image and likeness (Genesis 1:26). And since the image and likeness of God never dies, then the infinite purity that Christ Jesus restored upon the church at Calvary, was surely meant for rapture and eternity with God. On every occasion when biblical scripture takes the privilege to proclaim behold I am coming, it has everything to do with a revival of human faces that reflects the church as the expressions of the legions of God with whose Holy Spirit they were infilled

But when the time had fully come, God sent his Son, born of a woman, born under law, to redeem those under law, that we might receive the full rights of sons (Gal 4:4-5).

And it is this particular promise defining the church as God's, that the devil most reveres. This is squarely because the symbol of identity between the church and God Almighty is a very strong covenant, Christ Jesus. And the mere mention of Christ Jesus in the new endtime identity of the fallen church ignites the end of her sojourning and permits the great clock of time to exempt her from the "days prolonged and visions faileth" (Ezekiel 12:22). That can only imply that this written note of God is meant to ignite and endtime revival into the church that she many claim her spiritual heredity as the royal bride of Christ. For instance, in one of those most honoured occasions when the Lord said, I am coming, there was a direct message appended to it.

I am coming soon. Hold on to what you have, so that no one will take your crown (Rev 3:11).

Although this scripture is heavily worded, it is however beautifully framed in such a way that the Holy Spirit takes exploits for the kingdom of God, upon its adoption in our day to day salvation. It is a restorative scripture that in essence foretold of today's wrenching apostasy; and the dire need that would arise for a revelation on the time of the Lord's advent to be all rightly interpreted a message (Matthew 24:1-35). God Almighty is thereby using this written note with its content, to remind man of the original works of salvation on the Cross at Calvary. The salvation that purchased the church was received from the blood and the cross at Calvary. And hence because the Holy Spirit was well aware that spiritual amnesia would disturb by inflicting the church with a very wicked form of forgetfulness, then came this reminder in the written note. I am Coming , says the Lord, but the church must jealously hold on to what she received at Calvary in order that her crown may not go (taken away). We know it too well that in biblical perspective the crown greatly stands out as a symbol of the achievement that one has scored in life. Then, for the Lord to have appended this caution on the church to ensure that she holds on to what she originally received, in order that she may not lose her crown; then it can only mean that the church's crown is right now at stake here. While seemingly cumbersome, this statement is entirely solvable. This is because the absolute truth bears it that many christians and Pastors takeoff on a good footing after receiving the salvation of the Lord Jesus, only to waft away into the corruption of the moment. It is that wafting away that equally drifts off the church's crown into the hands of the adversary. Implication is taken hereof that all the gains that the believers may have scored in their christian lives are currently at stake, because they literally have not held onto the original message that was handed down at Calvary. The appendix therefore denotes the revelation behind the statement that God Almighty wrote in that vision when he scribed ; I am Coming. Such a memo is intended for the church of Christ that she may know that her appointed divine promise requires of her spiritual responsibility. Spiritual accountability at this hour becomes critically pivotal to the church because century after century passed away and the voices of Prophets seem to have ceased, to the extent that most of the believers had resigned from taking personal responsibility over their faith and literary succumbed to the heavy hand of the oppressor upon them. The rampant sexual sin, corruption of prosperity, love of money, false prophets, false apostles, witchcraft, lies, etc, that currently plagues the church openly announces her dire need for a healing miracle. The church has been desperately exclaiming to the Lord for an open heaven help. From the days of Enoch God's promise was faithfully repeated through the patriarchs and the Prophets in such a way that it kept alive the hope of his appearing, and yet he came not. That is exactly the reason as to why this time around the Written Note of God re-ignites that living hope because on this round the Messiah is finally coming (1 Thess 4:16-17).

THE LIGHT

For God Almighty to have shone a brilliant Light from heaven in that May 11, 2009 vision, even as he descended the written note from heaven to the earth, it must have denoted that the mysterious light which Jesus brought into the church, had now faded away thereby creating an urgent need for a luminous star to appear and linger in the skies. This is what gave the glimmers of hope as this light in heaven shines upon the current spiritual night, even as the glory of God floods the hills, countryside and terrains. This mysterious light that the Lord shone in the vision essentially acted as a harbinger of the Promised One to come. I am Coming, which implies he comes with the dispensation of Light and hence the church must get out of the deeds of darkness and embrace the deeds of day light. Believers are children of light since at their salvation they found marvellous light that is Christ Jesus. The Lord in that vision did shine the marvellous light of mysteries from heaven upon the dark face of the earth. In doing so, his message to mankind resonated loud and clear that time had now come for the church to wake up from their slumber because their salvation has now drawn nearer than when they first believed.

And do this, understanding the present time. The hour has come for you to wake up from your slumber, because our salvation is nearer now than when we first believed. The night is nearly over; the day is almost here. So let us put aside the deeds of darkness and put on the armour of Light. Let us behave decently, as in the daytime, not in orgies and drunkenness, not in sexual immorality and debauchery, not in dissension and jealousy. Rather, clothe yourselves with the Lord Jesus Christ, and do not think about how to gratify the desires of the sinful nature (Rom 13:11-14).

It is reminiscent of that dawn of the noble incarnation of Jesus Christ, when darkness had previously totally consumed the earth owing to the sin of Adam. The incredulity of the adversary had virtually been imposed to the people to the extent that there was no hope until the Messiah was incarnated. The magi had seen the marvellous light in the heavens and hence followed it to Bethlehem. That light symbolized the heavenly host that foretold of the Light of God that had now been shed on the dark earth. Today too in this vision, the light of God is ever shining amid the darkness of heathenism. The scriptures promised that there would come a star out of Jacob and a sceptre shall rise out of Israel in order to reprove the sin of darkness into the wonderful of God

"I see him, but not now; I behold him, but not near. A star will come out of Jacob; a sceptre will rise out of Israel. He will crush the foreheads of Moab, the skulls of all the sons of Sheth (Number 24:17).

Like it was during the dispensation of the noble incarnation of Jesus as God incarnate, so is the season in the church today. The magis had welcomed the light of heaven-sent truth, then it was shed upon them in brighter rays that totally imbibed their lives to the extent that they entered into the history books of heaven. The church too must embrace the heaven-sent truth about this hand-written note of God in order to enjoy this unwarranted eternal privilege. A reception of this most treasured missive would as well put the church's name right into the history books of heaven; the book of life of the Lamb of God.

"At that time Michael, the great prince who protects your people, will arise. There will be a time of distress such as has not happened from the beginning of nations until then. But at that time your people everyone whose name is found written in the book" will be delivered (Daniel 12:1).

As by faith Abraham went forth at the call of God, never knowing where he went to, so should the church of Christ follow by faith, the inscriptions of this written note as the beaming light of God upon the darkness. As it was the custom in the days of old to offer presents as an act of homage to princes or other personages of stature and wealth, with gifts of the land that were afforded, so was it with this written note. The Lord has essentially visited the church by paying her homage and presenting her with the best gift from that land (heaven), the written note. This the Lord has used to specifically appraise her of her stunted personage that she bears right before him. An appraisal of this nature is very handy and necessary to the church at this last hour when she appears to be so low and licking the wounds of her sin, with no hope of healing. The gift entailed in the hand-written note of God is that of eternal life, and only if the church can repent and prepare the way in holiness, for the coming of the Messiah. The arrival of this hand-written note into the church proclaiming the coming of the Lord, must be quickly noised throughout the four ends of the earth in order to renew hope to both the born-again Christians and the heathen. Both must repent and prepare the way for the coming of the Lord. However, the strange errand brought into the church, by this note has created an excitement that can only extol the Deity of God and its inherent piety, while denouncing the reign of the adversary in the hearts of the Christians forever. As a matter of fact, now that this heavenly note awakens the church to the unlimited opulence of love from the Lord, this could as well mark the onset of a popular tumult that will eventually unseat the adversary's dominion in the church. More so, because the message of this written note of God has the capacity to obliterate the previously concealed mistrust between the body of Christ and the Lord over the years due to sin and thwart the schemes of the cunning one. This is plausible because the message on the hand-written note of God, in its proclamation of the coming of the Lord, will spur-up a massive preparatory revival of repentance from sin. It is the turning away from sin that restores the novel relationship that Jesus established between the church and God Almighty, at the Cross. On another totally separate occasion in the Bible, when the Lord said I am Coming, He tagged it to a very critical message of this dispensation.

"Behold, I am coming soon! My reward is with me, and I will give to everyone according to what he has done (Revelation 22:12).

It is as though when the Lord finally sends this written missive to the church saying I am Coming, he is equally referring to an invitation to a private interview with her even when she makes it in the rapture. This strictly refers to the obligatory appearance of the raptured church before the white throne of God's Judgement. It is at this place that the church must account for every act that she got herself involved in, be in the scheming of her heart or the thought of her mind or the deeds of her life. It is a call to perfecting the bride of Christ and to stir-up every Christian believer to strive for the highest prize. This must be done very much aware of the fear of God which constitutes the treasured wisdom that allows the church into the kingdom of God. Also, the church must not at this hour of the written note, lose sight of the greater need to evangelize the holiness of the Lord Jesus to the heathen; those who do this will shine like the brightness of the stars for ever and ever. It is important to remember that the priests and the elders of Jerusalem were not as ignorant concerning the birth of Christ as they pretended because the report of the angel's visit to the shepherds had been brought to Jerusalem. But the rabbis treated it as unworthy of their notice and attention. And that is how the priests and elders of Jerusalem missed out on that critical moment of their visitation. The magi on the other hand embraced the report and entered into the history books of heaven. In the same context a caution is hereby advanced before the church that the pastors, bishops and elders combined should take notice of this mysterious illumination from heaven over the darkness of the earth, a Light that is shed on the most glorious hand-written note of God. The Lord purposed that when the Light is shed on the hand-written note then the church even in her darkness, can spot the words and read the note that says I am Coming. This message denotes the clock of God in heaven that has now ticked very very close to the midnight hour (Matthew 25:1-13). Still in making reference to the Light of hope that brought us Jesus for redemption, the church must remember that pride and envy closed the door against the Light when the shepherds brought their report regarding the coming of the Saviour. Let the church be extra cautious of the schemes of the adversary at this hour, that pride and envy may not close on them the door against the Light that the Lord released on that May 11, 2009.

I am Coming,
Says the Lord.
